

Sheri E. Ross
Arbitrator

Since 2005 Sheri Ross has been an arbitrator in the areas of discipline and discharge of employees as well as contract interpretation. She is selected to serve from arbitration lists maintained by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and the American Arbitration Association as well as panels for various government entities. Her diverse experience as HR Consultant for multiple small and medium sized business; turnaround expert for businesses in financial trouble; private practice labor attorney, and investigator/attorney for the National Labor Relations Board provided her with an eclectic foundation for this role.

Sheri's other volunteer experience includes Board Member for El Nido Family Centers, Treasurer and Marketing Chair for The PLATO Society of Los Angeles, mentor for the Wo-Mentoring program at JVS, and Pepperdine University, Seaver College, Board of Visitors. She holds a Bachelor's Degree from Cornell University, School of Industrial and Labor Relations; a JD from Loyola University; and an MBA in Finance from UCLA, Anderson School of Management.

She and her husband, Phil LeVine, divide their time between their home in Santa Monica, their 36 ft. Nonsuch sailboat in San Pedro and international travel. They have two adult children, who enjoy Phil's masterful cooking weekly and always take home leftovers.
